Candidates for Advanced Degrees
Class of 2016

SIGNIFICANCE OF THE ACADEMIC COSTUME

The significance of the academic costume is determined especially by the sleeves and hoods.

Doctors wear the round bell sleeve; the gown is faced down the front and barred on the sleeves with black velvet or color indicating the degree; the doctor's hood is large. The doctor may choose to wear the gold tassel on the cap.

Masters wear the long, closed sleeve, with a slit near the upper part of the arm; the master's hood is of more moderate size.

Bachelors wear the long or pointed sleeve. The color of the tassel indicates whether the degree is in the field of arts (white), fine arts (brown), music (pink), or science (golden yellow).

Elder L. Whitney Clayton was called as a General Authority Seventy of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in March 2001. His service in the Presidency of the Seventy began in 2008, and he was named Senior President of the Presidency of the Seventy in October 2015.

Elder Clayton's childhood in California was filled with hard work and family time. Before leaving for the hospital on Saturdays, Elder Clayton's physician father would write out a list of chores on a large chalkboard. When he would return, Dr. Clayton would join his children in the work and in helping take care of the family orchard. The labors usually lasted all day but included a family lunch complete with lemonade and conversation.

At first unsure about serving a mission, young Whitney Clayton decided to go after observing fellow students at the University of Utah who had served missions: "There was something about them that was different from all of the other young men I knew. And it was obvious that the key to it was a mission." He was called to the Andes Mission in Peru in 1970, and his mission instilled in him a lifelong love for the people of Latin America.

After his mission, Elder Clayton returned to school at the University of Utah and began dating Kathy Kipp. They were married in the Salt Lake Temple. Upon receiving a bachelor's degree in finance, Elder Clayton continued his schooling at the University of the Pacific School of Law in California. He then worked for several law firms before he and a partner opened their own firm in Newport Beach.

Elder and Sister Clayton have seven children. Taking a tradition from Elder Clayton's childhood, the Claytons made family dinner an essential part of daily life. Dinnertime allowed for a free flow of conversation that united their family and strengthened individual testimonies.

Elder L. Whitney Clayton has spent his life in service to the Lord. "My testimony is the center of my life. It is a tremendous motivator for wanting to do right, for wanting to be of service, for wanting to bless and help people anywhere, any way that we can."

Honorary Doctoral Degree

AMBASSADOR SU GE

Su Ge has had a distinguished career as a scholar, diplomat, and expert on Chinese–American relations. After a prominent academic career, he served as a diplomat for a decade, and he has since returned to an academic post as president of the China Institute of International Studies, one of China’s premier foreign policy think tanks that is under the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the People’s Republic of China.

Su Ge received a BA in English from the Xi’an Foreign Language Institute and was a professor of English there when he came to BYU in 1982 as a visiting scholar. He was also the first student from the People’s Republic of China following the 1979 normalization of U.S.–China diplomatic relations to receive a BYU scholarship. While at BYU he completed an MA in American studies and a PhD in American history. His wife, Li Jing, and their very young daughter, Su Jin, joined him in Utah. Su Jin later returned to earn a BA degree in international studies (global economy) from BYU in 2002.

Professor Su Ge’s master’s thesis analyzed how China could learn from the American experience as it pursued a policy of opening and reform, and his doctoral dissertation examined the U.S.–Taiwan defense treaty of 1954, drawing on recently declassified State Department materials. His research was facilitated by a fellowship at the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D.C. Su Ge’s dissertation was the basis for his first book, American China Policy and the Taiwan Issue. This seminal academic contribution, an 815-page tome, is considered one of the most comprehensive studies of the Taiwan question in U.S.–China relations.

Following a postdoctoral appointment at Harvard University, Su Ge returned to China in 1988. He eventually took a position as a professor of international studies at the Foreign Affairs College, China’s top school of international relations. He was subsequently awarded a Senior Fulbright Fellowship for study at Johns Hopkins, Georgetown, and George Washington Universities. In recognition of his academic accomplishments, he became a senior research fellow at the China Institute of International Studies and thereafter the vice president in charge of research and foreign affairs.

Ambassador Su Ge’s diplomatic career started in 2003 when he was appointed as Minister Counselor at the Chinese embassy in Washington, D.C., where he served until 2006. He was then appointed as China’s ambassador to two countries: the Republic of Suriname (2006–2009) and the Republic of Iceland (2009–2013). He continued as an advisor to China’s foreign ministry and in 2015 was appointed president of the China Institute of International Studies.

In recognition of Su Ge’s long and devoted service to the Chinese nation, his remarkable service promoting U.S.–China understanding and cooperation, his active efforts as an ambassador to increase international understanding, and his academic contributions, Brigham Young University is pleased to confer upon professor and ambassador Su Ge the degree of Doctor of International Leadership, honoris causa.
